

Status of COVID-19

“As of 19 March 2020, COVID-19 is no longer considered to be a high consequence infectious disease (HCID) in the UK. The 4 nations public health HCID group made an interim recommendation in January 2020 to classify COVID-19 as an HCID. This was based on consideration of the UK HCID criteria about the virus and the disease with information available during the early stages of the outbreak. Now that more is known about COVID-19, the public health bodies in the UK have reviewed the most up to date information about COVID-19 against the UK HCID criteria. They have determined that several features have now changed; in particular, more information is available about mortality rates (low overall), and there is now greater clinical awareness and a specific and sensitive laboratory test, the availability of which continues to increase.

The Advisory Committee on Dangerous Pathogens (ACDP) is also of the opinion that COVID-19 should no longer be classified as an HCID.”

Included in this article are the links to the Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccine analysis prints listing all the deaths and injuries caused by the vaccines. The injuries include: strokes, heart attacks, miscarriages, seizures, paralysis, facial paralysis, neurological problems, multiple sclerosis, pneumonia, sepsis, blindness, deafness, transverse myelitis, memory impairment, alopecia, covid-19 and much, much more. The well-publicised blood clots are the tip of a very large iceberg. (Please keep in mind that only 1% of adverse reactions are reported).
